A New Environment Calls for New Strategies
Find, Get and Keep the Job You Want

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION
Four weekly sessions will take you through the SELFIE (Self-Empowering Learning for Innovative Enlightenment) model created by Michael Kuhlman.

• Identify and overcome obstacles that keep you from the job that’s right for you.
• Discover what you have to offer and find your competitive edge in this changing work environment.
• Learn what our community employers need and want in their employees.
• Develop strategies for a successful presentation, from creating your resume to your final job interview.
• Practice your new presentation skills on a group of your peers and benefit from their objective critique, while learning about your competition.

PRESENTER PROFILE:
MICHAEL KUHLMAN
“I have been socially active throughout my career in the advancement of issues related to aging. Whether, young or mature the brains ability to adapt to life’s experiences remains relatively the same.

My career spans the last thirty years in entertainment, industry, and education from New York City to the Western United States. It has been my pleasure to work with many internationally famous designers, actors and luminaries who have taught me to overcome adversity through wit, ingenuity, and hard work.

Additionally, I hold a Baccalaureate Degree from the Pennsylvania State University. Currently, I am working for the National Council on Aging and championing the cause of multi-generational inclusion of our most vulnerable.”

Tuesday, September 8, & Mondays, September 14, 21 & 28, 2015
10 am - 12 noon

Stockton Kramer Hall
30 Front Street, Hammonton, NJ 08037  609-626-3835

Register for this free program online at stockton.edu/scosa or by calling 609-626-3591. You must be able to complete all sessions.