AASCU’S Global Challenges Curriculum: Stockton’s Site License for 2015-2016

The materials used for GSS 1236: Go Global -- a summer online course taught by four faculty members -- are developed and maintained by the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU) Global Engagement Initiative, which is part of the larger National Blended Course Consortium (NBCC) that includes Stewardship of Public Lands, Economic Inequality.

Stockton has a site license for the AASCU Global Challenges materials for 2015-2016 making them available to you for use in the classroom. Please see details below for information about how to access these resources and what is included.

To access the AASCU Global Challenges resources, search for ‘Blackboard support’ on the Stockton homepage and select ‘Instructor Support’ to locate the ‘Request a Development Section’ button. Then, in the “Questions or Requests Box” specify the following: “Please load AASCU Global materials”.

Blackboard Menu
Each lesson contains:

1) Originally produced videos recorded on Stockton’s campus
2) A faculty-curated list of freely available online resources and tools related to each global challenge
3) Three assignments with corresponding rubrics
4) Test bank with MC and essay questions

Assignment #1: Global Village
You are provided with a blank Excel sheet of 100 individual identities based on the 100 People Project. These are readily assignable to students for a variety of applications from weekly writing assignments to semester-long projects. Also, there is a sample blog post in Lesson 1 and Lesson 2. Lessons 9 and 10 contain a different set of Global Village instructions.

Assignment #2: In the News
This assignment is the same across each lesson and provides an opportunity to connect course content to current events using the NY Times (or other media outlets).

Assignment #3: Thinking Critically About…
Each lesson has a set of distinct questions pertaining to each specific challenge.
IMPORTANT: These materials were used for GSS 1236 so please do not adopt this curriculum wholesale without adaption for your own course.

Please contact Tina Zappile (tina.zappile@stockton.edu), the Stockton representative for AASCU’s Global Engagement Initiative, Doug Harvey (douglas.harvey@stockton.edu), Michael Rodriguez (Michael.rodriguez@stockton.edu), or Amy Ackerman (amy.ackerman@stockton.edu) for questions about using this material.
