Jeff Haines goes into his 13th season as Stockton’s head coach on the verge of a milestone. Haines starts the year with 196 victories, and it’s only a matter of time before he collects win number 200. With a .730 winning percentage, he is one of the most successful active coaches in Division III. Haines has propelled Stockton to its greatest heights, leading the Ospreys to an NCAA championship, two NCAA Final Four trips, four NJAC titles, six NCAA Tournament berths and two ECAC Metro championships.

Haines brought Stockton to the pinnacle of national success in 2001 as the Ospreys marched to the NCAA Division III championship and set an NCAA all-division record with 25 victories. They reeled off 20 consecutive wins and went unbeaten in their final 22 games. Stockton also won its second NJAC title in three years en route to a 25-1-1 final mark. Haines was rewarded with NSCAA National Coach of the Year, NSCAA Metro Region Coach of the Year and NJAC Coach of the Year honors.

Earlier, Haines began his head coaching career by succeeding his mentor Tim Lenahan as Stockton’s head coach in 1998 after three seasons as an assistant with the program. He promptly led the Ospreys a school-record-tying 17 victories in his first season. The seeds of Stockton’s 2001 NCAA championship were sown in 1999 when Haines took a young squad on a dramatic Final Four run. The campaign produced Haines’ first NJAC title and an upset of #2-ranked Williams in the NCAA quarterfinals. He was named NSCAA Metro Region Coach of the Year and NJAC Coach of the Year.

In 2002, Haines steered the defending NCAA champs to their second straight NJAC title and third in four seasons. Stockton again earned an NCAA bid and finished the year at 18-5. Haines achieved a personal milestone with his 100th victory, a 4-0 win over Savannah Art & Design on September 13, 2003. He led Stockton to its fourth NJAC crown in six years a season later in 2004 when he guided a talented but inexperienced team to the NCAA quarterfinals and an 18-4-3 mark in a campaign that resembled the 1999 season but fell just one win short of a third Final Four berth. In 2008, Haines coached Stockton to its first NCAA Tournament berth since 2004, a second-place finish in the NJAC and a 16-6-1 record.

A native of Pitman, New Jersey, Haines is a member of the South Jersey Soccer Hall of Fame and Pitman High School Sports Hall of Fame. He was four-year letter winner and 1990 graduate of Lock Haven University, and his background also includes assistant coaching stints at Lock Haven, The College of New Jersey and Gloucester County College.

Jeff Haines

Head Coach Jeff Haines

Stockton Men's Soccer
Jeff Moore
Stockton men’s soccer alumnus Jeff Moore is in his fifth season as an assistant coach for the Ospreys. Moore was a 2001 NSCAA/adidas Second Team All-American and a four-time NJAC All-Conference selection. He also was a starter on Stockton’s 2001 NCAA championship team and he holds school records for assists in a season (19) and career (48).

Moore was drafted 66th overall in the 2002 MLS Superdraft and played for the NY/NJ MetroStars. He also played professionally indoors for the Philadelphia Kixx. Prior to joining the Stockton staff, Moore served as assistant boys soccer coach at West Deptford High School in 2005.

Greg Ruttler
Greg Ruttler, a 2001 NSCAA/adidas Third Team All-American for Stockton, returns for his fifth season as an assistant coach at his alma mater. Ruttler was a three-time NJAC All-Conference First Team honoree and the leading scorer on Stockton’s 2001 NCAA championship team. He stands second at Stockton in career points (125) and third all-time in goals (43) and assists (39), and he is tied atop Stockton’s all-time games played list.

Before he joined the Stockton coaching staff, Ruttler served as an assistant girls soccer coach at Hammonton High School in 2003 and then was the head girls soccer coach at Paul VI High School in 2004.
The Stockton men’s soccer team heads into the 2010 season trying to recapture the success of the first half of 2009 and erase the struggles of the second half. Last year, the Ospreys started 9-1 but went just 3-8-1 down the stretch. Stockton’s list of 12 returning letter winners includes four NJAC all-conference selections from a season ago but just two additional players who started at least 13 games. Head coach Jeff Haines also will be seeking better stability and health than 2009 when only one player, Brennen Fitzsimmons, started every game.

Senior Rafael Duarte drives the Stockton offense. Duarte is one of the premier scorers in the NJAC with 40 goals and 88 points in 54 career games. Last year, he earned the NJAC Offensive Player of the Year award and NJAC First Team honors with team highs of 12 goals and 27 points despite missing four games. Senior transfer Kyle Evans could pair with Duarte to form a dynamite offensive tandem. Evans totaled 48 points in three seasons at Lehigh. With the graduation of Stockton’s second, third and fourth top scorers from 2009, the Ospreys will need some additional players to contribute offensively this year. Junior Bryan Hutches could help if he can make a successful return after battling a foot injury that limited him to 13 games in 2009. Freshmen Ali Gocmez and Pat Langan are rookie forwards for the Ospreys.

The Stockton defense is anchored by a pair of 2009 NJAC all-conference selections in juniors Brennen Fitzsimmons and Sal Pistone. Fitzsimmons displays an excellent combination of size and skill while Pistone possesses brute force. Each player also broke through for three goals last year, with the majority coming on headers. Sophomore Chris Hayman is back after a strong freshman year in which he made 17 starts. Seniors Travis Albert and Harry Middleton are veterans who give Stockton experience and stability on defense. Freshman Tom Parkinson could become a player to watch for the Ospreys if he can stay healthy after a knee injury forced a medical red-shirt last year and sophomore transfer Rob Brandt also is expected to play a key role on defense. Freshman Nick O’Hara is the lone rookie back this season.

Senior midfielder Sean Nelson, a 2009 NJAC First Team performer, is Stockton’s spark plug and the centerpiece of a revamped midfield. Nelson is the team’s most experienced player with 58 career games to his credit. Last year, he led the Ospreys with seven assists and finished with 15 points. Senior George Hamilton has been a reliable player on the flank throughout his career. Although he rarely starts, Hamilton always provides solid play when he is on the field. Senior Rich Stone should contribute more in his second year at Stockton after joining the team as a transfer and tallying two assists in 18 games last year. Junior Daen McMichael is a returning letter winner at midfield who saw action in 12 matches in 2009.
2010 Season Preview

Junior Brian Thomsen and sophomore Clay Gashlin are a pair of transfers who are expected to strengthen Stockton’s midfield. Thomsen could bolster the Ospreys as the defensive center midfielder while Gashlin is likely to fill an opening on the left flank. Freshman Kevin Churchill is slated to take over on the right flank as a rookie. Freshmen Anthony Fiorletti, Rich Henry, Domenick Nocito and Anthony Pira represent a strong future at midfield for Stockton.

Junior Lou Herring should assume an even bigger role as the starting goalkeeper for the Ospreys in 2010. Herring played over 60 percent of the team’s minutes between the posts last year, registering a team-leading four shutouts plus a 1.44 goals against average. The remaining two keepers on the roster are newcomers, freshman Tim Brett and junior Noah Morris. Brett has the potential to be the goalie of the future while Morris offers maturity as well as experience from the junior college level.

The Stockton men’s soccer team reached its first NCAA Final Four in 1999.
In 2001, the Stockton men’s soccer team reached the pinnacle of success by winning the NCAA Division III national championship. The Ospreys set an NCAA all-division men’s soccer record for victories in a season as they posted a 25-1-1 mark that included a 20-game winning streak and a 22-game unbeaten streak.

After starting the season by winning the Colorado Midwest Classic and Stockton Seashore Classic tournaments, the Ospreys suffered their only loss of the year to Rowan. They proceeded to roll through the rest of the regular season and add the Manhattanville Valiant Cup and North Carolina Wesleyan O’Brien Fall Classic titles along the way. Stockton finished the regular season with a 19-1 record, yet incredibly, they were the third seed for the NJAC tournament due to tiebreakers.

The Ospreys avenged their only loss by dumping Rowan in the NJAC semifinals before topping New Jersey City to win the conference title and earn the automatic NCAA Tournament bid. Stockton’s march to the championship began with a 3-0 shutout of Mary Washington followed by a 1-0 triumph over rival Rowan. The Ospreys squeezed past St. Lawrence 1-0 on Jamie Nelson’s goal in 84th minute to earn their second Final Four berth in three years.

Stockton battled Ohio Wesleyan through 120 tension-filled scoreless minutes in the national semifinals, which were held at Messiah College. The Ospreys prevailed 3-1 on successful penalty kicks by Greg Ruttler, Jeff Moore and John Epley to reach the NCAA title game for the first time in school history.

Ironically, Stockton’s opponent in the championship game was Redlands (CA), a team the Ospreys had defeated 3-1 to open the season in Colorado. Epley gave Stockton an early 1-0 lead, but Redlands netted a goal eight minutes later to tie the score. Ruttler put the Ospreys in front 2-1 at 19:31 and the advantage lasted until Redlands again knotted the score at 50:04. Eight minutes later, Mike McAlarne headed a corner kick by Jeff Moore into the goal for a 3-2 Stockton lead. This time, the Ospreys were able to protect the lead for the remainder of the game and win the College’s first national championship in a team sport.

The best players in the history of the Stockton men’s soccer program:

Hernan Maldonado (F) 1983-86
Jim Connor (F) 1996-97
Les Lunsford (M) 1995-98
Jeff Moore (M) 1998-2001
Santiago Solari (M) 1994
Greg Ruttler (M) 1998-2001
Pete Schneiders (M) 1993-94
Jim Orozco (B) 1982-85
Mike McAlarne (B) 1999-2002
Eric Dodson (B) 1994-96, 98
Joe Eimer (GK) 1995-96
Here, in numerical order, are the 10 greatest games in the history of the Stockton men’s soccer program:

1. Stockton 3, Redlands 2
   November 24, 2001
   Mike McAlarnen scored on a header at 58:48 to snap a 2-2 tie and propel Stockton to the college’s first NCAA championship in any sport with a 3-2 victory over Redlands. McAlarnen’s goal gave the Ospreys their third and final lead of the game. John Epley opened the scoring, however Redlands answered to tie the contest 1-1. Greg Ruttler later gave Stockton a 2-1 lead, but Redlands knotted the score at 2-2 with a goal early in the second half. The Ospreys were able to protect the 3-2 lead for over 30 minutes. The NCAA crown capped a remarkable season in which Stockton set an NCAA all-division record with 25 victories and won 20 consecutive games.

2. Stockton 1, Williams 0
   November 20, 1999
   Jason Kufta scored on a corner kick served by Jeff Moore in the NCAA Quarterfinals at Stockton. Goalkeeper Tom Sauer made five saves to preserve the shutout. An estimated crowd of 900 fans witnessed the Ospreys upset of previously-undefeated Williams, which came into the match at 16-0-3 and ranked second in the nation. The victory sent Stockton to the NCAA Final Four for the first time in the program’s 20-year history.

3. Stockton 0, Ohio Wesleyan 0
   November 23, 2001
   Stockton advanced to its first NCAA championship game 3-1 on penalty kicks after a 0-0 draw with Ohio Wesleyan over 120 minutes of the Final Four matchup. Greg Ruttler, Jeff Moore and John Epley converted penalty kicks in the shootout. Brett Steinberg stopped one penalty kick and Ohio Wesleyan hit the post on two others. Steinberg had punched a dangerous shot over the crossbar in the second half of regulation to keep the game scoreless. The Battling Bishops also bounced a shot off the crossbar in the first half. Ruttler generated Stockton’s best scoring chance on a volley shot that sailed wide in the second half.

4. Stockton 2, Rowan 1
   November 13, 1999
   Midway through the second half, Mike McAlarnen scored the game-winner on a corner kick served by Jeff Moore in the NCAA Metro Region final. The goal was scored against a 30-mph wind with the Ospreys playing a man down at Rowan. Earlier, Moore scored the first goal of the match and the teams went into the half tied 1-1. The victory gave Stockton its first NCAA Metro Region championship.

5. Stockton 3, Rowan 0
   November 4, 1995
   Frank Halter scored with 11 minutes remaining in the first half and George Galanos added two second half goals as the Ospreys crushed previously undefeated and third-ranked Rowan in the NCAA first round at Rowan. The victory ended a drought of 19 years without a win versus the Profs.
6. Stockton 1, Kean 0 November 14, 1998
At Kean, Les Lunsford scored with two minutes remaining on a 35-yard free kick to avenge an earlier 3-0 defeat and propel the Ospreys to the NCAA Metro Region final for the third time in four years. Goalkeeper Tom Sauer recorded his team-record 12th shut-out of the season. Kean had gone 9-0 in NJAC play during the regular season, outscoring its opponents 28-0.

7. Stockton 2, UC-San Diego 1 October 12, 1996
Jim Connor scored a first half goal and George Galanos added one in the second half as the Ospreys topped Division III power UCSD in San Diego. Goalkeeper Joe Eimer made save after save down the stretch as Stockton defeated the three-time national champions. After the victory, the Ospreys climbed to #2 in the national rankings.

8. Stockton 3, Kean 2 September 26, 1981
Mickey Hurley scored two goals on his 18th birthday and John Milligan scored in overtime as the Ospreys avenged the previous year’s 7-0 loss. The win signaled the beginning of Stockton’s entrance onto the national soccer scene.

9. Stockton 1, Notre Dame 0 October 27, 1983
Bill Nowack scored the game’s only goal as the Ospreys sent the Fighting Irish back to South Bend, Indiana with a loss. Stockton later qualified for its second consecutive ECAC playoff berth at the end of the season.

10. Stockton 1, Trenton State 0 November 6, 1993
Jason Fahs scored six minutes into the game off a pass from Pete Schnieders and goalkeeper Jim McCombs made save after save as the Ospreys defeated Trenton State in Stockton’s first-ever NCAA tournament appearance.
The Stockton men’s soccer team kicked off the 2006 season with a nine-day trip to Costa Rica on August 7-15. The Ospreys played four games against Costa Rican club teams during their stay. They also trained with morning workouts and sampled the local culture with visits to the area beaches and towns. The trip was organized through Costa Rica Soccer Tours (www.costaricasoccer.com).

Head coach Jeff Haines, assistant coaches Jeff Moore and Greg Ruttler and 19 returning players made the trip, which was paid for by the team’s fund-raising efforts. Costa Rica is a Central American nation of over four million people where soccer is the most popular sport. Photos of Stockton’s trip to Costa Rica can be viewed online at www.costaricasoccer.com/photogallery_richardstockton/index.htm.

The Stockton men’s soccer team in Costa Rica
Santiago Solari came to Stockton in 1994 out of Rosario, Argentina. During his freshman season, Solari tallied eight goals and 15 assists for 31 points. He was named NJAC Rookie of the Year and earned NJAC All-Conference First Team and the NSCAA All-Region Second Team honors. With Solari in the lineup, Stockton posted a 15-5 record and received an NCAA Tournament berth.

After one season with the Ospreys, Solari returned to Argentina where professional contract offers loomed. His pro career began with River Plate of his native Argentina, with whom he made 65 league appearances. Solari later moved on to Spain where he played two seasons for Atletico de Madrid.

In 2000, Solari signed to play for Real Madrid, one of the most famous and renowned soccer clubs in the world. Playing alongside international superstars such as Roberto Carlos, Luis Figo and Zinedine Zidane, Solari helped Real Madrid win the 2002 UEFA Champions League title. Solari played for Inter Milan of the Italian Serie A League from 2005-08 before signing with San Lorenzo in his native Argentina.

On August 8, 2002, Solari returned to New Jersey with his Real Madrid teammates to play Roma in an exhibition game at Giants Stadium. A group of Stockton faithful including the College’s long-time athletic director G. Larry James, Dean of General Studies Jan Colijn, former head coach Tim Lenahan (now the head coach at Northwestern University) and several former players were in attendance.
