Academic Resources

Richard E. Bjork Library

The mission of the library is to provide support for the College's goals of excellence in teaching and dedication to learning. To that end, the library provides services, materials, facilities and access to information necessary for study and research. The librarians invite all students, staff and faculty to make full use of libraries—the physical and the virtual.

Math Tutoring Center

The Math Center provides peer tutoring to all students at Stockton enrolled in mathematics and science courses. Any Stockton student can "drop in" without an appointment at any time during regularly scheduled hours. Many students routinely do their homework in the Skills Center. If he or she encounters a problem, a tutor will be able to help.

their courses through strengthening the quality of their written work. The Center serves a diverse student clientele, from freshmen enrolled in introductory writing courses and freshman seminars, to upperclassmen working on senior projects and graduate school essays. The staff and tutors of the Writing Center work on the basic principle that all writers benefit from a critical reader who will provide feedback and editing suggestions.
