Andrea Miller, artistic director of Gallim Dance, is highly recognized for her work, which shows daring and physical risk. Miller was the recipient of a Guggenheim fellowship in 2014 for her exceptional creative ability.

“Miller is known for creating work that blends wild-child dynamism with quiet emotional resonance.” – VOGUE, Sept. 6, 2013

Founded in 2007, Gallim quickly captured the attention of fellow artists, presenters, and audiences with its award-winning work, ensemble of dancers, and a fearless physicality grounded by deep humanity and expressed through the madness and joy of the imagination. The company also provides NEA-recognized educational programming to dancers and non-dancers in its home studio in Brooklyn and beyond.

Gallim is a highly sought-after company whose work has been acclaimed by the New York Times as “voluptuously polyglot choreography,” performed by dancers “of the highest calibre” (Dance Europe). The company performs for over 15,000 audience members annually in premier venues including BAM, New York City Center, the Joyce Theater, Jacob’s Pillow Dance
