Stockton University
2015 Fall Faculty Conference

Dr. Susan Davenport
Interim Provost & Executive Vice President
Move-In Day August 28th!
“...Opening up my mind about the greater good of education.

I was a firm believer that college was a place where young adults went because that is what society expected and attending college was the only way to make money. I have gone through a transformation during this course...

I am happy I could reflect on myself in the larger concept of society, where I am, and where I have the capacity to be once I am a successful Stockton graduate.”

• How did the extreme inequality we find today happen?

• What are the implications of such dramatic economic inequality?

• How much inequality is too much?

• If these trends undermine the integrity of our democracy, then what can we do?
