ATTENTION- ALL STUDENTS SEEKING FIELDWORK PLACEMENT IN SCHOOLS

REQUIRED CRIMINAL HISTORY REVIEW
Prior to placement in any form of School of Education fieldwork, a student must successfully complete the NJDOE required Criminal History Review Process and have documentation of the review on file with the Stockton School of Education. A valid NJ Substitute Teacher Certification is accepted as documentation of this process.
Please refer to the Handbook of the Teacher Education Program

BACKGROUND STATEMENT

In the past, because the schools we re not focused on the background checks, students desiring to begin our Teacher Education Program by taking Educational Psychology completed a simple one page Applicant Authorization and Certification form which was notarized and signed in the Office of the School of Education. By signing this form, the student affirmed that he/she had not been convicted for any of the crimes or offenses listed. The form was placed in the student’s file and retained for future reference.

Due to New Jersey Department of Education regulation changes, all individuals that are to spend an extended period of time in any preK-12 school must now go through a full, federal level criminal history background check. This process must be done immediately in order to insure your ability to complete fieldwork and student teaching in a school district. Schools have the right to deny students if this criminal history background check is not completed. This can mean your fieldwork being delayed or postponed until the next semester.

There are two options available to you. One option is to apply for a substitute teaching certificate. This process includes the necessary criminal history background check. This application will cost approximately $200. Though the cost is more than the other option, this will allow you to substitute teach while working towards certification. By substituting, you have a chance to network in schools and gain experience working with children. Keep in mind that it is also a good thing to do once you are complete our teaching program and in the process of job hunting.

The other option is to complete just the criminal history background check through a company called Morphotrac. This process is significantly less costing approximately $85. The steps for getting this check complete is similar to the substitute teaching process but with less paperwork and fees. However, this does not qualify you substitute. If you wish to substitute, you will have to apply for that separately.

Regardless of the option selected, it is essential that you complete this federal level criminal history background check. In the past we’ve been able to do this on Stockton campus. Due to state regulation changes you must initiate this process yourself. Further, you must do so by going to a school district. This cannot be completed online without getting the necessary codes from the school that starts the application process for you. The first step is going to any school district’s Human Resources Department. When doing so remember to be courteous and clear about your reason for your visitation.

See the back of this form for an explanation of your two options and the fees associated with each.
