Galloway, NJ – Stockton University is offering a Community Leadership Skill-Building Workshop on Tuesday, Oct. 27 from 9 a.m. – 4 p.m. at the Manahawkin Instructional Site, located at 712 East Bay Ave. in Manahawkin.

The day-long workshop, facilitated by Erin O'Hanlon, program assistant in Stockton's Office of Service-Learning, will focus on identifying and organizing community initiatives.

"A community initiative can be anything from developing and implementing a fundraising walk to getting policy changed through town council," O'Hanlon explained. "This course trains participants in mobilizing communities around the issues that matter most to them."

The workshop is free and open to students, faculty, staff and community members and partners. Registration is required by calling 609-626-3883.

For more information on other activities and classes at the Manahawkin Instructional Site, visit: Stockton.edu/Manahawkin or call 609-626-3883.
