Galloway, NJ – The Stockton College Golf Classic will be held on Thursday, Sept. 26 at the Stockton Seaview Hotel and Golf Club on Route 9 here.

LPGA Professional Laura Diaz will put on a golf clinic prior to the tournament for the second year in a row.

"We are fortunate to have Laura Diaz and her father and coach, Ron Philo, Sr., joining us again this year for what promises to be another enjoyable tournament for Stockton College," said President Herman Saatkamp.

The Stockton event, which is played on the Bay and Pines courses at historic Stockton Seaview, benefits the College Foundation Scholarship Fund. Last year more than $69,000 was raised to help deserving students.

"This year, we are delighted to partner with the Parent and Family Association (PFA) at Stockton in hopes of increasing the number of parents and family members playing in the tournament in support of scholarships for Stockton students," said Anthony J. Coppola, Sr., chair of the Stockton College Foundation. "Our special thanks to those considering sponsorship support and to the community business leaders and individuals who join us for the Golf Classic each year."

The cost ranges from $1000 for a foursome and sponsorship of a hole sign, to $225 for an individual player. Included are 18 holes of golf, the golf clinic, lunch and dinner.
