Galloway Township, NJ- The Stockton Center on Successful Aging (SCOSA) will offer a professional seminar on "Organizational Leadership in the Health Care Setting" on Thursday, Oct. 16, 2014 at The Shores at Wesley Manor, 2201 Bay Ave. in Ocean City, NJ.

Linda Coppinger, M.A., executive director of the South Jersey Alzheimer's Association Delaware Valley Chapter, will provide information for administrators, managers and first-line supervisory personnel. The presentation is designed to introduce participants to organizational leadership topics, including leadership styles, decision-making, and conflict management techniques. Information from the course will be used for participants to create an action plan for a personal work situation.

The seminar is designed for professionals, para-professionals and other caregivers who work with older adults. The 4:30 – 7 p.m. event is free of charge and includes dinner. Upon completion, participants will receive two Continuing Education credits for social workers, marriage and family therapists, occupational therapists, licensed professional counselors, and two contact hours for nurses.

The event is sponsored by Right at Home in Linwood and Spring Oak Assisted Living of Vineland.

Online advance registration is required by 5 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 10, 2014 and can be accessed through the SCOSA website at www.stockton.edu/scosa. For registration assistance, contact William Albert at 609-652-4512. For updates and cancellation procedures, visit the SCOSA website.
