Galloway Township, NJ – Musicians and music fans listen up: On Wednesday, Dec. 17, Kramer Hall, The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey's site in Hammonton, NJ is hosting its second "Jammonton," an evening of local acoustic music.

The event is returning to Kramer Hall after the success of last month's "Jammonton." Throughout the course of the evening, an impromptu band of Stockton faculty and staff and local community members will play a variety of acoustic instruments, such as bass, mandolin, dobro, guitar, harmonica and flute.

Anyone attending is welcome to bring an acoustic instrument and play his or her own selection of music. All skill levels and instruments are welcome in a friendly, supportive environment for both musicians and music fans to converse.

"Jammonton," a free public event, will be held from 6-8 p.m., at Kramer Hall, 30 Front St. in downtown Hammonton.
