Galloway Township, NJ – "Jammonton" is on a roll: Building on the success of its first two evenings of local acoustic music, The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey's Kramer Hall will host area musicians and music fans on Thursday, Jan. 15.

Throughout the course of the evening, an impromptu band of Stockton faculty and staff and local community members will play a variety of acoustic instruments, such as cello, bass, mandolin and guitar.

Anyone attending is welcome to bring an acoustic instrument and play his or her own selection of music. All skill levels and instruments are welcome in a friendly, supportive environment for both musicians and music fans to converse.

"Jammonton," a free public event, will be held from 6-8 p.m. in the Noyes Art Gallery at Kramer Hall, Stockton's instructional site at 30 Front St. in downtown Hammonton.
