

Stockton's Kramer Hall Presents 'Stitch in Time,' a History of WWII Local Women Seamstresses

Vineland Historian to Speak at March 31 Event Co-Sponsored by the School of General Studies

For Immediate Release

Monday, March 17, 2014

Contact: Maryjane Briant
News and Media Relations Director
Galloway Township, NJ 08205
Maryjane.Briant@stockton.edu
(609) 652-4593

Galloway Township, NJ - Patricia A. Martinelli, author and Curator of the Vineland Historical & Antiquarian Society, will present "A Stitch in Time," a brief history of Italian-American women who worked in regional clothing factories during World War II on March 31, 2014 at Stockton College's Kramer Hall instructional site in Hammonton.

The 4 p.m. event in Kramer Hall's Art Gallery will explore the ways in which the chance to work outside the home proved a pivotal experience for many of these women, who had never before earned a paycheck of their own.

A reception will follow at the free, public event, which is co-sponsored by Kramer Hall and The School of General Studies of The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey.

#