Galloway Township, NJ- Temple Emeth Shalom in Margate will host the "Salute to Stockton" Annual Distinguished Scholars Guest Speakers Program for the 12th consecutive year. This popular program features faculty and staff members from The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey.

Rabbi Gordon Geller said that the "Salute to Stockton" talks are one of the highlights of the year at his congregation.

"What started out as an idea to bring Stockton's wealth of talented speakers into our community has evolved into a much anticipated annual tradition," Rabbi Geller said. "Stockton is home to many world-class scholars, a fine Religious Studies program and the Sara and Sam Schoffer Holocaust Resource Center. This lecture series is just one more example of the College's partnership with and outreach to our community.

The series of talks will take place at the Temple in the sanctuary during Sabbath eve services starting at 8 p.m. The Temple is located at 8501 Ventnor Avenue in Margate (near the corner of Ventnor and Jerome Avenues). These events are free and open to the public. Refreshments will be served after the service.

Following is the schedule of speakers and their topics:

Friday, July 24: Professor Marcia Fiedler: "Women in Jewish Law: Laws or Myths?"

Friday, July 31: Alex Marino, Director, Carnegie Library Center: "The Carnegie Library: A Century of History"

Friday, August 7: Professor Beverly Vaughn: "Put a Song in Your Soul"

Friday, August 14: President Herman J. Saatkamp, Jr.: "Stockton's Community Partnerships"
