Galloway, NJ – The Stockton Center on Successful Aging is holding its annual Aging Successfully Festival from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Wednesday, May 13 at Stockton University's Campus Center, 101 Vera King Farris Drive in Galloway, NJ.

The daylong event celebrates Older Americans Month and the 50th Anniversary of the Older Americans Act. This year's theme is "Get Into the Act," focusing on how older adults are taking charge of their health, getting engaged in their communities and making a positive impact on the lives of others.

Last year's event drew over 500 older adults who attended lectures, workshops, musical presentations and visited over 30 businesses and organizations exhibiting throughout the day.

The festival offers non-profit organizations and for-profit businesses that serve older adults the opportunity to greet current clients, meet potential clients, network with peers and gain exposure through the event and SCOSA's website. Additionally, the organizations and businesses will build relations with Stockton University, a premier learning institution and community partner, and SCOSA, whose mission is to promote research, education, and services to respond to local, regional, and national needs related to population aging.

SCOSA has partnered with the South Jersey Senior Networking Group to offer discounted exhibit tables to members of the South Jersey Senior Marketing Group – membership is free. Visit SCOSA's website at stockton.edu/scosa for more information on the sponsors, donors, and exhibitors. Exhibit space is limited and an early registration discount is available.

An early contributing sponsor is The Shores at Wesley Manor and exhibitors include:
